COMMARFORRES

Force Readiness Assistance and Assessment Program

(FRAAP)

FRAAP MISSION

- MISSION:
  - Provide Commander, Marine Forces Reserve with an accurate assessment of the readiness for mobilization of SMCR units
  - Improve Force readiness by providing training and assistance to SMCR units as required
  - Deploy, Fight, Win, Survive focus

Change from MORDT to FRAAP

- FRAAP replaced MORDT effective 1 October 2007 by order of Commander, Marine Forces Reserve

- Purposes of change to FRAAP:
  - Provide more relevant information, regarding force readiness, to CMFR
  - Enhance force readiness by placing greater emphasis on "assistance"

Change from MORDT to FRAAP

- Significant changes:
  - From 7 Assessment Areas to 4 Assessment Areas
    - Manpower
    - Logistics
    - Personnel Administration
    - Medical/Dental
    - FRO & BCP (courtesy look)

Note: USMC and MFR orders currently being revised by MFR G-7 to reflect the change from MORDT to FRAAP

Two main components of FRAAP:

ASSIST

- Provide instruction and training to assessed units as required, requested and appropriate.
- Identify and recommend “best practices” throughout the Force.

ASSESS

- Provide Commander, Marine Forces Reserve with a relevant and timely assessment of SMCR unit mobilization readiness.
- Identify unit-specific mobilization challenges.
- Identify systemic (multi-unit) mobilization readiness issues.

Evaluation System

- FRAAP OIC AND CIG recommend grade:
  - DEPLOYMENT CAPABLE
  - DEPLOYMENT CAPABLE WITH ASSISTANCE

- COMMANDER, MARINE FORCES RESERVE

  assigns final grade
